

Chiara Campalani

Web Developer | LQA Tester

www.chiaracampalani.me

I'm a Web App developer & LQA Tester with a background in Travel and Customer Care. I am looking to combine my web development skills and the knowledge and experience I gained through my current position as an LQA gaming software tester with my passion for software development. I am currently looking for a position as a QA Engineer to further my interest, knowledge, and experience in software testing, test suites, and test development and I believe my present experiences, knowledge, and passion for constant improvement put me in a great position to take on a new challenge.
